EXHIBITIONS

■ January 11 – March 4, 2024

Opening Reception:

Thursday, January 11, 2024 | 6:00 PM - 8:00 PM

Vancouver Outsider Arts Festival Touring Exhibition

Vancouver Outsider Arts Festival is disrupting exclusion and inviting connection. As Canada's first and only festival dedicated to outsider art, it is challenging art world stereotypes, increasing awareness about outsider artists and providing a much-needed platform for sharing their creative scope with the wider community. Join us for the third iteration of Vancouver Outsider Arts Festival Touring Exhibition.

Targeted

Melanie Olson

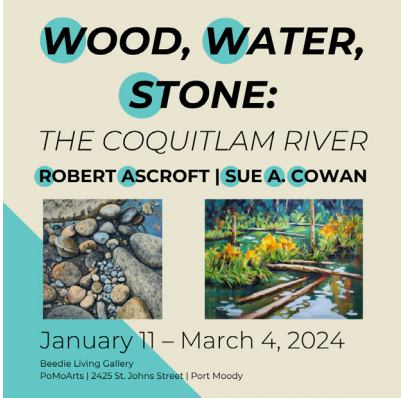

A body of work that delves into the depths of human emotions, capturing the essence of the devastating aftermath of enduring relentless emotional abuse. Olson created the series to look back and identify all the little signs so many people in abusive relationships miss. And to share those signs, and remove the shame of it in a big, loud, and overt way.

Wood, Water, Stone: The Coquitlam River

Robert Ascroft | Sue A. Cowan

The artists spent two years exploring and plein air painting along the Coquitlam River trying to capture the essence of this piece of wild, where the river meets the city. During the winter they translated sketches into the larger works for the exhibition. Their different styles reveal their distinct responses to time and place, reflecting their magical days by the river.

Tafoni: Weathering

Denise Jeffrey | Ellen Peltó
| Celeste Snowber | Carolyn
Sullivan | Sande Waters

Five women; a painter, a photographer, a potter, a sculptor, and a poet/dancer from across the continent, have by chance, all experienced the beautiful and unique settings of the Tafoni rock formations on the Gulf Islands, finding themselves motivated to create art. Each finds themselves interpreting the tensions between the weathering processes that create these formations and their captivating distinctiveness, - experiencing the magnificence of Tafoni, but also its vulnerability. The exhibit "Tafoni: Weathering", expresses how these unique spaces have moved them.

Permission to Play

Brianne Siu

Using ceramics as her medium Brianne Sui explores her childhood memories and the experience of play. Creating these playful objects motivated her to examine the concepts of boundaries, repetition, and permission. The pieces incorporate tactile elements, sounds, and colour to evoke the attention and imagination of viewers, translating the pleasure she felt in giving herself permission to play. The exhibition encourages you to reconnect with your childhood experiences and the uninhibited euphoria of play.

Relational / Reflexive

Jason Young

A debut solo show charting the development of Jason's intensive art practice. His work strives to investigate the space between queerness and abstraction through deconstructed portraiture, honoring members of Vancouver's Queer community. The portraits attempt to interpret the subject's identity by transcribing the physical and psychic space between the artist and the subject through intuitive, bold mark-making and color.
